Season's Greetings!

WITH SO MUCH TO CELEBRATE THIS TIME OF YEAR, I WOULD LIKE TO TAKE A MINUTE TO SHARE WITH YOU HOW EXCITED I AM TO BE TAKING OVER AS OWNER AND PUBLISHER OF NAPLES LIFESTYLE! I am ecstatic to work with the best of the best in our community, to highlight those who give back in so many ways, and to celebrate the many blessings we all get to experience every day here in paradise! My goal with Naples Lifestyle is simple: to make it the premier magazine in our community for shining a light so bright that it is contagious—and what better time to start than during the most wonderful time of the year?

There's a unique perspective that working in publishing brings. While we certainly don't want to wish our lives away, we're always looking toward the future. Whether it's planning our next issue or developing story ideas for the next year, we've often already fast-forwarded to future months before the current month has even begun.

The fast-paced lifestyle this industry calls for can often make it difficult to really settle down and absorb what's going on around us and, before we know it, the year is over and it's time to move forward again.

So this December, we hope you take the time to slow down a little bit. With the holiday season upon us, we hope you make the time to take it all in. Enjoy your time with family and friends, bask in the magic of the winter season, reflect on past memories you hold closely in your hearts and keep the new ones you create in the present for as long as you can.

We have all been so blessed this past year; let's celebrate it together!

Merry Christmas to you and yours!

2019 NAPLES INTERNATIONAL FILM FESTIVAL

ARTIS—NAPLES AWARD

Mr. Jimmy

"WE CELEBRATE THAT FILM IS A TRULY MULTIDISCIPLINARY ART FORM, AND THE FILMS, PANEL DISCUSSIONS, LIVE PERFORMANCES AND EDUCATION PROGRAMS ASSOCIATED WITH THE FESTIVAL PROVIDE OUR COMMUNITY WITH A UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY TO EXPERIENCE THE ART OF FILM." says David Filner, Artis—Naples executive vice president, artistic operations.

The popular Naples International Film Festival launched into its second decade with the 11th annual event Oct. 24–27 at Hayes Hall. It opened with Van Maximilian Carlson's festival favorite, Princess of the Row, which has won a number of awards on the film festival circuit and closed with a special presentation of Steven Spielberg's Raiders of the Lost Ark featuring a live performance of John Williams' classic score by the Naples Philharmonic, conducted by Principal Pops Conductor Jack Everly. In addition, the renowned actor Joe Pantoliano was honored with the 2019 Naples International Film Festival Artis—Naples Award.

Recently named one of MovieMaker Magazine's 25 Coolest Film Festivals in the World 2019, NIFF presented 54 films (16 narratives, nine documentaries, 29 shorts) representing 20 countries. The premiere list included one world premiere, three films making their North American premieres, four East Coast premieres and 28 Florida premieres. In addition to the films, more than 24 filmmakers attended post-screening Q&A conversations and panel discussions during the festival.

$25,000 in cash prizes was awarded to filmmakers in a variety of categories: $7,500 each for the two juried competitions (Best Narrative Feature and Best Documentary Feature), $2,000 each for the Audience Award winners in the Best Narrative Feature and Best Documentary Feature categories and $1,000 for the Audience Award winner in the Best Short Film category. A new award was added this year, the Focus on the Arts Award, and was accompanied by a $5,000 cash prize. The Focus on the Arts Award was created to recognize a narrative or documentary film that emphasized one or more of the visual and performing arts.

"We are proud to have made a significant investment in celebrating the art of film and are thrilled with the growth of the film festival over the past three years. The development of the Naples International Film Festival reflects the commitment to quality and variety that is at the heart of the Artis—Naples mission," says Kathleen van Bergen, Artis—Naples CEO and president.

The recipient of this year's Artis—Naples Award, which is presented to a filmmaker, actor or artist who exemplifies the multi-disciplinary approach to the arts, was the incomparable Joe Pantoliano. NIFF showcased one of his latest films, Sean Cisterna's From the Vine, in which he plays a CEO who retreats to his family's hometown in Italy in an effort to deal with a moral dilemma and discovers an Italian vineyard on its last legs—which just may be the answer to getting him back on track.

Pantoliano's performance on The Sopranos (2001–2004) yielded him multiple Emmy nominations and a coveted Emmy win in 1999, but he made his initial breakthrough in Taylor Hackford's The Idolmaker (1980). He first received widespread notice for his role as Guido, the killer pimp, in Paul Brickman's Risky Business (1982). Numerous films and television roles followed: The Goonies (1985), La Bamba (1987), Empire of the Sun (1987), Midnight Run (1988), The Fugitive (1993), Bad Boys (1995) and Bound (1996). Pantoliano's place in cinema was forever cemented by his roles in two modern-day classics: Matrix (1999) and Memento (2000). The prolific Pantoliano currently has five more films in various stages of post-production.

The Naples International Film Festival's Narrative competition sections included Leon Chambers' Above the Clouds, an Audience Award winner at the Austin Film Festival about a headstrong teenage girl's car trip to Scotland with a dubious driver's license in order to find her "real" father; Amber McGinnis' International Falls, about a woman stuck in a small, snowbound border town with a dream of being a comedian who meets a burned-out touring comic who would rather do anything else; R.J. Daniel Hanna's Miss Virginia, which follows the journey of a single mother who reacts to her son's struggles on the rough streets of Washington, D.C. by launching a movement to change the education system; and Hilary Brougher's South Mountain, which stars Talia Balsam as a woman dealing with the personal crisis of her future turned on its head when her husband tells her he is leaving her, just as her kids also leave for the summer.

NIFF's Documentary Competition included Jenifer McShane's Ernie and Joe: Crisis Cops, which follows two Texas police officers with the San Antonio Police Department who are diverting people away from jail and into mental health treatment, one 911 call at a time; Peter Michael Dowd's Mr. Jimmy, which looks at the moment where a lifelong dream meets reality when a Japanese kimono salesman and die-hard Led Zeppelin fan comes face-to-face with his rockstar hero, Jimmy Page; Jennifer Trainer's Museum Town, which looks at the origins of the Massachusetts Museum of Contemporary Art; and Bill Gallagher's Runner, which follows Guor Mading Maker, a long-distance runner who, against difficult odds, ran for South Sudan in the 2012 Olympics.

"From tearjerkers and thoughtful dramas to sincerely funny and delightful comedies, as well as documentaries that surely caught attendees off guard, our audiences rode a roller coaster of emotions over the four days of NIFF." NIFF Producer Shannon Franklin says.

BOYS & GIRLS CLUB OF NAPLES

updated October 2019

IN

1860, THREE WOMEN IN HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT—MARY GOODWIN, ALICE GOODWIN AND ELIZABETH HAMMERSLEY—BELIEVED THE BOYS ROAMING THE STREETS SHOULD HAVE A MORE POSITIVE ENVIRONMENT TO SPEND TIME IN THAN THE UNSTRUCTURED, UNCERTAIN AND POTENTIALLY DANGEROUS ONE THEY WERE ALREADY IMMERSSED IN. Out of this belief, the first Good Will Club was formed, with character development as its cornerstone. The focus of the club was capturing boys' interests, improving their behavior and increasing their personal expectations and goals.

Forty-six years later, several boys clubs joined forces, and the Federated Boys Clubs in Boston was formed with 53 member organizations. This was the official start of a nationwide movement and the national organization known as the Boys Club Federation of America, which changed its name to Boys Clubs of America in 1931. In 1990, the organization wanted to recognize the fact that girls were also a very strong part of the cause, and the name changed to Boys & Girls Clubs of America as a reflection of this acknowledgment. The organization celebrated 100 years of providing hope and opportunity to young people across the country in 2006.

The Boys & Girls Club of Collier County has been a pillar of the community for over the past two decades. In carrying out its mission, the club offers a safe place for young people to learn, grow and develop ongoing relationships with caring, adult professionals who support the educational, emotional, physical and social development of our youth and provide them with the resources needed to become successful adults. The life-enhancing programs and character development experiences provide hope and opportunity that "assures success is within reach of every young person who enters our doors" (part of the B&G Club Vision Statement) so they can reach their full potential.

More than 3,000 children and teens, ages 6 to 18, are served by the Clubs in Naples and Immokalee. Through partnerships with the Naples Children and Education Foundation and Florida's 21st Century, Boys & Girls Club of Collier County is able to provide a safe, positive, enriching environment during the most critical time of the day: out-of-school time. Ninety-six percent of members receive free or reduced lunch, 55% of members come from homes where English is not the main spoken language, and 100% of members receive partial or full scholarships to attend the clubs.

The Boys & Girls Club of Collier County has a relentless pursuit to do whatever it takes to build great futures. With programs such as sports, fitness and recreation; health and life skills; character and leadership development; arts; education and career development; and the newest culinary program, The Blue CanTEEN; members' receive exposure to experiences and opportunities that solidly prepare them for what they may encounter later on in life. To attest to the impact on these young men and women, in the 60 schools served throughout Collier County, 100% of at-risk high school-aged club members graduated high school last year.

There are many ways to get involved with this organization to make even more positive differences in the lives of the young people in your own community. The best way to learn about the club is to visit and see how the staff does whatever it takes to build great futures. Tours of the facility are offered to community members who are interested in learning more about how they can support the Boys & Girls Club of Collier County. There are also numerous volunteer opportunities for those who want to take a hands-on approach. The club strongly believes in the value that volunteers add to the well-being and development of its members. As little as one or two hours per week as a volunteer can positively impact a child's life. There are one-time, done-in-a-day opportunities, as well as ongoing positions where volunteers can serve as tutors or mentors, getting to know these young people, building relationships with them, and investing in their lives. In addition, individuals and businesses can financially support the Boys & Girls Club with individual donations, purchasing tickets to events, or becoming an event sponsor. Any and all of these ways help keep kids and their futures a Number 1 priority.

“The club [also] taught me how to be a leader. When I first joined, I was a very shy kid. My mentors saw leadership qualities in me and began to present me with opportunities that developed those skills. Being the president of the Torch Club and Keystone Club gave me the confidence I needed to pursue similar roles in my adulthood.”

-MARYAH, 2014 NATIONAL YOUTH OF THE YEAR

“I didn't have a lot of opportunities until I joined the Boys & Girls Club, and that changed my outlook on life. I want to use my leadership qualities to tell all kids to make good decisions and to not bully others.”

-CALVIN

“Programs like SMART Girls and Healthy Habits nurtured my desire to become a nurse and helped me understand that I have the power to make a positive difference in the lives of others and how they feel about their bodies. I was inspired by my time in the club to become an advocate for mental illness and substance abuse and an educator for clean eating and adequate exercise.”

I WANT TO...

A NEW YEAR TO TRY NEW THINGS

BE HEALTHY

Health trends and lifestyles are such a part of our culture, it's normal when a new way of eating or a new piece of exercise equipment promises to make us look and feel the way we so strongly desire. One thing none of those can get rid of is stress—work, family life, everyday chores, pets, parenting, marriage, holiday planning, the list goes on. Stress negatively affects everyone, and while there are a variety of ways to decompress, yoga relaxes both the mind and body, knocking out stress and improving physicality.

BE ARTSY

Did you know the right side of your brain houses creativity and artistry? If you are already right-brained, this probably isn't news as you instinctively craft, create and design. For left-brained people, such things don't come as naturally. A new year is an excellent time to rest your logical side and activate your inner artist. So, left-brainers, grab one of your already artistically gifted friends so you don't feel completely out of your element, or right-brainers, drag along one of your pals who needs to be a bit more creative, and dig into your artsy sides!

BE INTELLIGENT

Intelligence is the ability to think, to learn from experiences, to solve problems, and to adapt to new situations. It impacts behavior. It's an indicator of success. It's even considered quite attractive. One way to keep your mind sharp and operating to its greatest potential is to challenge it in this tech world where everything is at our fingertips before we even think about it. Seize opportunities to stimulate your brain as it's your control center!
